To whom it may concern,

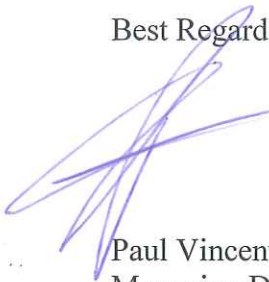

Thank you for your invitation to write a testimonial of my experience with Nix Communications, I am delighted to do so.

My experience with Nix Communications has been fantastic from start to finish. I have found both the company Directors and the staff to be extremely helpful, first in sourcing the right equipment for my business and then providing an efficient installation process along with superb training and support.

The Siemens system I now have has made a tremendous difference to my day to day business, in particular the Smartphone technology which has enabled us to be far more efficient and manage our client base more effectively.

I would highly recommend the services of NIX Communications to all other business.

Best Regards
